HILL & CO LAWYERS PRESENT FREE SEMINARS FOR CLUB MEMBERS DURING SENIORS WEEK

HILL & CO LAWYERS today announced that it was holding several free seminars on the Central Coast dealing with elder law issues during April as part of Seniors Week.

The seminars address a range of legal issues relevant to older persons to promote a better understanding in the community of the importance of good planning. Areas covered include:

- Wills. Why are they important?
- Powers of attorney? What are the types?
- Appointment of Enduring Guardian? Why have one?
- Buying and selling in a retirement village.
- Pre-paid funerals. How do these contracts work?

The seminars will be held for club members in the following locations:

- Thursday 10th April at 9.15am at Avoca Beach Bowling & Recreation Club;
- Thursday 10th April at 3.00pm at Gosford RSL Club;
- Friday 11th April at 10.30am at the Central Coast Leagues Club; and
- Friday 18th April at 11.00am at the Davistown RSL Club.

HILL & CO LAWYERS is a successful commercial law firm based in the Platinum building at Erina and services the Central Coast, Sydney and the Hunter regions. Speaking today, HILL & CO LAWYERS Practise Manager, Peter Hill, stated:

“Our firm sees a real need on the Coast to educate older persons in these important issues and to promote early thinking on how good planning can prevent many legal problems in the future. These seminars are consistent with our firm’s philosophy to support the communities in which we serve.”

These educative sessions follow on from the highly successful seminar recently held at Alloura Waters Retirement Village in Davistown. HILL & CO LAWYERS are active in the community, sponsoring a range of local sporting, charitable and business activities on the Central Coast, including the Kincumber Roos Football Club, Central Coast Community Chest and Gosford Chamber of Commerce.
